2022 Homesteading Conference Guide

Thank You For Joining Us!

Conference Logistics

THE CONFERENCE IS SOLD OUT. NO TICKETS WILL BE SOLD AT DOOR.

- Conference tickets can be either printed or presented on smartphone.
- Bring boots and a warm rain jacket as all demonstrations will happen outside
- We recommend you bring a water bottle/thermos. There are several water fountains inside the venue to fill water.
- Food vendors are onsite for both lunch and dinner (see vendor list). There were be multiple sites, both inside and outside, to eat meals. Cash is preferred for vendors and merchandise as everyone keeps more money!
- There will be limited seats outside – we recommend you bring camping chairs if you have them!
- Attendee parking for the conference is in a church parking lot a short walk from the community center. Strollers and wagons are most welcome at the conference.
- All children under 16 must be under the supervision of a parent at all times. While we are not able to provide childcare for conference attendees, we will have a plethora of ongoing live demonstrations throughout the day of the conference that are kid-friendly, and will have a room dedicated for parents to take their younger children, where we will stream the main talks. Please keep in mind the talks are geared towards adult education and we will not have specific talks or events for children.

LIVE MUSIC

Allison Miller

Allison began her musical career at age three with Suzuki piano lessons under the tutelage of Carol Wunderle and although she continued to play piano for the next thirteen years, she picked up the harp at age fourteen and began to explore the traditional music scene. She attended workshops at the Ohio Scottish Arts School and, after completing an undergraduate degree in biology, had the opportunity to pursue post-graduate studies in Clarsach (Scottish small harp) and Scot's Song at the Royal Scottish Academy of Music and Drama in Glasgow, Scotland. She has competed extensively and has been awarded the title of National Scottish Harp Champion of America after winning the 2012 National Scottish Harp Competition and is the current Treasurer of the Scottish Harp Society of America.

Faire May

The band's four members, Zac Gordon, Jariel Henthorn, Max McGovern, and Jacob Coughlan, collaborate to bring old-world music to the modern world. Faire May has performed with many other great folk artists: such as Ben-David Warner, Joe Zelek, Crandall Creek, Gallowglass, and Williamson Branch. They were also featured on a Scythian "Quarenstream" in 2020.

At a Faire May concert you will hear anything from banjos to bagpipes, jaw harps and beyond. you will hear and enjoy music from the 15th century all the way until the 1950s and 1960s. The band loves to play music in the genres of Bluegrass, Celtic, Old-time, Colonial, Gospel, German, Hungarian, Russian, Polish, Mediterranean, Medieval, and classic 1950s and 1960s music.

Michael Manocchia

Playing primarily the guitar and tin whistle, but also adept with the Mandolin and Banjo, this multi-instrumentalist folk singer makes certain his mission to open hearts, and bring joy while doing it.
